GREAT PEOPLE ARE THE KEY

Miles-McClellan knows the most important elements in our buildings are the people who build them and the people who occupy them.

Our people are dedicated to helping achieve project goals smoothly, efficiently and responsibly, while maximizing your investment and minimizing risk. We do everything with integrity, our handshake is as good as a signed contract.

" Building Excellence is not just meeting the industry standard but going beyond and setting a higher standard of service to be emulated on our clients' future projects. "

Ernie Lewis, Sr. Project Superintendent

WHO WE ARE

OUR MISSION

We are Builders. We succeed by building leaders and long-term relationships.

OUR VALUES

Safety First - See something. Do something.

Customer Focused - We strive to be the easy button for our clients.

Extreme Ownership - We work as a team to do whatever it takes.

Integrity Driven - Our handshake is as good as any contract.

Think Forward - Find a path when one is not obvious.

At Miles-McClellan, we're proud to call Columbus and Charlotte home. We live here, work here, raise our families, coach sports teams and volunteer here. We support local businesses and provide work for local contractors. We are committed to improving our communities and the lives of residents through economic growth in our regions.

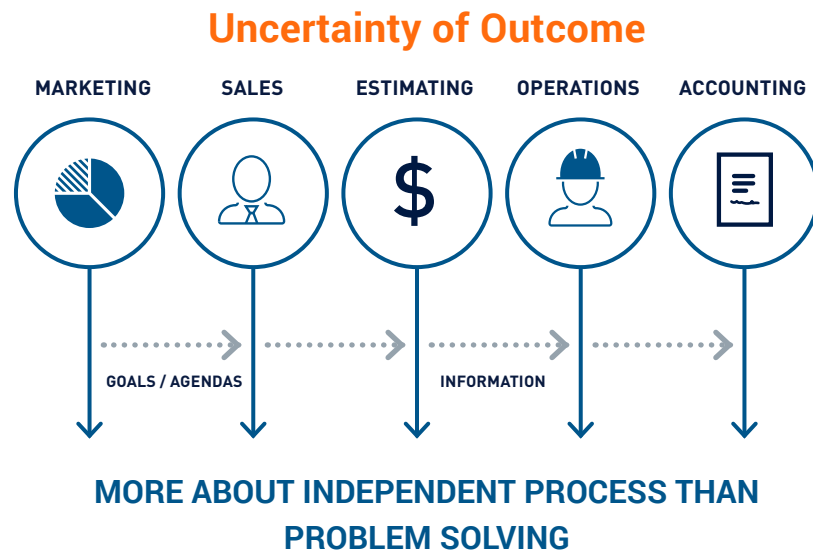

PROCESS MATTERS

We do things differently. As a Miles-McClellan client, you work with a highly skilled team with experience in your industry for the entirety of your project. We refer to this team as your IMMPact Team.

THEIR WAY

At many construction companies, one team does the selling, one does the estimating, another manages the project, and yet another settles the account. Because each step and team exists independently, miscommunication and delays are bound to happen. The inflexible structure puts the onus on you as the client to communicate your goals and expectations throughout the project.

THE MILES-McCLELLAN WAY

Each of our IMMPact Teams is an experienced, industry-specific, cross-functional team lead by a seasoned Project Executive. This allows us to be flexible and responsive to our clients' needs. The team doesn't change as the project progresses, so you experience the same high level of excellence and customer satisfaction from pre-construction to the ribbon-cutting ceremony.

BUILDING EXCELLENCE WITH EVERY PROJECT

Our IMMPact Team delivers excellence and satisfaction to every client, every project, every time. We are a cohesive unit in constant communication about your project.
